DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 28, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant arguments regarding claim 1, the examiner respectively disagrees since Yap et al. discloses claimed limitation in paragraph 0087 reception/tuning plural programs, as well as recording one program while playback another program.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yap et al. (US 20020092021).

Regarding Claim 1: Yap et al. discloses a recording/reproducing apparatus, comprising: at least two channel selecting mechanisms for taking in television signals on plural channels including a television signal on a program guide providing channel (paragraph 0087 and 0096), in that an electronic program guide has been stored at a predetermined timing (paragraph 0047), and selecting the television signal on a desired channel in the above plural channels (paragraph 0047); at least two signal processing mechanisms for performing predetermined processing to television signal on desired channel selected by each of channel selecting mechanisms (paragraph 0087); electronic program guide extracting mechanism for extracting electronic program guide from television signal on program guide providing channel selected by channel selecting mechanism (paragraph 0011-12); switching mechanism for switching connections of channel selecting mechanisms to signal processing mechanisms and electronic program guide extracting mechanism (paragraph 0056); and control mechanism, in the case where a plurality of said predetermined different processing is simultaneously performed to one television signal on said desired channel by each of signal processing mechanisms (paragraph 0087 and 0098), for controlling said switching mechanism so that the signal processing mechanisms are collectively connected to one of said channel selecting mechanisms (paragraph 0056).

Regarding Claim 2: Yap et al. discloses a recording/reproducing apparatus according to claim 1, wherein; in the case where in providing of electronic program guide, a plurality of said predetermined different processing is simultaneously performed to television signal on said program guide providing channel in each of signal processing mechanisms (paragraph 0087), control mechanism controls said switching mechanism so that the above plural signal processing mechanisms and electronic program guide extracting mechanism are collectively connected to one of plural channel selecting mechanisms (paragraph 0090).

Regarding Claim 3: Yap et al. discloses a recording/reproducing apparatus according to claim 1, wherein: a recording medium for storing television signal subjected to predetermined processing by each of signal processing mechanisms is included (paragraph 0136); and each of signal processing mechanisms simultaneously performs compressively coding processing to one television signal on desired channel selected by one of channel selecting mechanisms at a different compression rate, respectively (paragraph 0076), and said television signals compressively coded at the above different compression rates are recorded in said recording medium (paragraph 0076).

Regarding Claim 4: Yap et al. discloses a recording/reproducing apparatus according to claim 1, wherein: a recording medium for storing television signal subjected to predetermined processing by each of signal processing mechanisms is included (paragraph 0136); and plural signal processing mechanisms simultaneously perform processing for viewing or respectively different compressively coding processing to one television signal on desired channel selected by one of channel selecting mechanisms (paragraph 0076), and television signals subjected to the above compressive coding in the above processing for viewing and compressively coding processing, are recorded in recording medium (paragraph 0076).

Regarding Claims 5-9: Claims 5-9 are rejected for the same subject matter as claims 1-4 respectively.

Regarding Claim 10-11: Claim 10-11 are rejected for the same subject matter as claim 1.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2621

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
